APPLY Process
Keys To Success

Senior Officer APPLY

- Every Officer must validate database billet information by registering on APPLY every year
  - Must apply for at least one billet to be considered for an Interim Fill
  - It is recommended that you apply for ALL 35 billets if possible

- Submit Remarks and Billet history on the APPLY website
  - Highlighting experience, quals, and circumstances to the panel during the slating process helps them determine the best officer for billet
  - Every board member sees these remarks and billet history (a letter to the board is only seen by your briefer)

- Submit a letter to the board
  - Highlight missing information
  - Clarify unusual circumstances regarding your record

APPLY Process
Keys To Success

- Certain communities and billets require a resume
  - You MUST fill out and submit the resume template to be considered for the billet.

- Indicate that you want to be considered for billets not listed on your dream sheet
  - billets often become available that were not advertised in Apply
  - if you are offered a billet that was not on your dreamsheet, you are not obligated to take it.
  - If you are in a promotion select status, you will vacate your current assignment. If you select this option and your current billet may be filled (so consider not checking this option if you have tenure remaining and only want what is on your dreamsheet)

- Be willing to travel
  - Many units offer flex drill opportunities in order to provide more support to the Supported Command during the week.

APPLY Program Keys To Success

APPLY Phases:

Ranking

- similar to a promotion board in Millington
- record gets briefed and voted on one time
- Goal: rank applicants from the best qualified applicant to the least qualified applicant.
- Board reviews each applicant's record and votes on the officer's potential

Slating

- the best qualified applicant for their top billet choice gets slated to that billet.
- next most qualified person and the process repeats until all the billets are slated
- CO / OIC billets generally tend to be filled first.
  - some CO billets are unofficially viewed as "major command" and get slated fast

Positive Weights

- Proven and Sustained Performance
- Progressive & Diverse Resume
- Breakouts “in traffic”
- Leadership jobs commensurate with rank
- MOB / IA Assignments
- JPME / Advanced Degree(s)
- Competency / Skills in Precept Guidance
- AQDs / NOBCs
- Required Credentials / Civilian Skills
- Letter to Board to explain gaps or adding recent information not in a FITREP
- Awards
- NRAMS / JFROC / SNROOC/ Board Duty
- Command Recommendations
- Good Leadership Marks
- Briefer’s Advocacy & Credibility

Counterweights

Incomplete Record
PFA Failure(s)
Adverse Field Code 17
Whining / Arrogant Letter to Board
Adverse FITREP(s)
Perceived Sense of Comfort
Question Marks in Record

Proven and Sustained Performance, particularly in command, leadership positions, and difficult joint /in-service assignments outweighs any other factor

Each Voting Member “weighs” these factors based on their professional judgment and experience

How to Improve Your Odds

1. Change Your Mindset

- You're "applying" for a job just like in the civilian sector
  - Want Ads
  - Applications
  - Resumes
  - applicant screening, etc.
- Tailor your input to the jobs you are applying for.
- Use the REMARKS section in the online APPLY application to specify your qualifications and experience

2. Know the Game

- Study and understand the guidance in CNRFC NOTICE 5400
  - Follow the rules
- Read last year's PRECEPT

Improving Your Odds

3. Plug any Holes and Gaps

- Gaps in records leave doubt, and lower confidence in your potential.
- Ensure all of your FITREPS are in your record (and in readable format)
- Verify your awards, NOBCs, AQDs, licenses, and credentials are in your record.

4. Write a Letter

- Avoid having your briefer guess about you and your record
- Explain any gaps or unusual circumstances in your record
- Send a letter with missing FITREPS, awards, quals, etc.
- Remember – your letter to the board is NOT viewed during slating

Improving Your Odds

5. Be Honest with Yourself

- Review and grade your record…do you have an “A”, “B”, or “C” record?
- Ask a board-experienced mentor to candidly review and mark up your record
- Develop a career game plan to improve your “stature”

6. Diversify Your Portfolio

- Picking 35 CO billets with a “B” or “C” record will probably not allow you to obtain the billet you are requesting.
- Unless you have an unquestionable “A” record, it might be prudent to pick a spread of “stretch”, “competitive”, and “safe” billets
- Similar to applying to college

Improving Your Odds

7. Fill the Glass Full

- Think about availabilities and probabilities
- If you only pick 5 or 6 billets and they're filled by the time you come up for slating, your record will be automatically tabled
- If qualified for the billet, use all 35 choices on your dreamsheet
- Pick in order of your preference

8. Pick "Chairs" that Fit

- Applying for billets you're clearly unqualified for is equivalent to selecting < 35 choices….it also wastes the board's time
- Reminder: Follow the established rules (see #2)

Improving Your Odds

9. Any Job is Better than No Job

- Lean forward and accept a billet not on your dreamsheet
- Take the job and do it well – it will pay off in the long run
- If it's a Non-command billet, apply next year for the Commanding Officer job you want

10. Planes, Trains & Automobiles

- The more unwilling you are to travel, the lower your odds are of getting a billet (see #9)
- Encompass the nearest Fleet concentration areas

Final Words of Wisdom

11. Take the Tough Jobs

- Remember what has "weight"?
- Proven and sustained performance, particularly in command, leadership positions, and difficult joint/in-service assignments outweighs any other factor
- Think about your priorities

12. VTU Bound?

- Rededicate yourself if you don't receive a billet, and don't sit in the VTU
- Find a unit where you can make a difference, and ask upfront to be competitively evaluated on your performance and potential
- If you do not ask, you shall not receive!

Recommendations

To increase your odds of getting an Apply billet :

- Complete JPME I
- Participate in a Fleet or Joint Exercise
- Apply for NOBCs for which you are qualified
- Complete an Advanced degree
- Fill out Remarks section of APPLY application with scope of experience in AORs and support to the Fleet
- Seek guidance on units/billets and the application process from community mentors!
